How to Become a Learning Organisation

The concept of 'The Learning Organisation' has been popular since the 1990s. However, most organisations have struggled to truly become learning organisations because they have not been able to integrate the five growth mindsets:

1. The Cathedral Mindset: Seeing the big picture + Becoming a systems thinker
2. The Learning Mindset: Overcoming restricting mental models + Becoming a life-long learner
3. The Creativity Mindset: Cultivating a dreaming disposition + Transforming Tools
4. The Efficiency Mindset: Spotting inherent inefficiencies + Inspiring ownership
5. The Sharing Mindset: The wisdom of teams + Cultivating collaboration

Extensively Researched, Experientially Delivered

In this training, we have taken the time-tested disciplines of the Learning Organisation (Senge 1990) and supplemented it with the best thinking in the areas of creativity (e.g. De Bono, Schwartz), motivation (e.g. Pink, Maxwell), self-learning (e.g. Kolb, Adler, Bruner), management (e.g. Buckingham, Sinek), and team collaboration (e.g. Covey, Peters, Katzenbach & Smith).

But it is not enough for participants understand the content. To inculcate the growth mindsets, it is necessary for participants to be involved in the personal discovery and application of the principles. To bring about such shifts, we employ a variety of learning methodologies, including role plays, games, case studies, group discussions, and critical self-reflection and application.
